LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

Headquarters U. S. Marine Corps,

WASHINGTON, September 11, 1922.

1. Uniform Regulations, United States Marine Corps, 1922, is published for the information and guidance of the service, and will immediately supersede Uniform Regulations, United States Marine Corps, 1917 (as amended by Changes Nos. 9 to 22, and by circular letters, etc.), which is accordingly rendered obsolete. The regulations contained in the 1922 edition will be strictly followed hereafter by all officers and enlisted men of the Marine Corps, and by all members of the Marine Band, and all regulations at variance will no longer govern.

2. Illustrations and index will be issued later. In order that matter may be readily located without recourse to index, the table of contents should be consulted. The book is divided into two sections—regulations and specifications—with an additional chapter on the care of the uniform (Chapter IX). Regulations are covered in Chapters I to VI, and specifications in Chapters VII and VIII.

3. Chapter I contains matters of general application. Chapter II outlines the articles of uniform with which officers and the leader, Marine Band, are to be provided, the various lists being alphabetically arranged, with each article in the complete list bearing a cross-reference of the paragraph number containing its specification.

4. Chapter III contains the tables combining in the various uniforms the articles procured by officers under the preceding chapter and, in succeeding sections, contains tables of the uniforms for enlisted men and for all members of the Marine Band. In the sections for officers and enlisted men the tables are followed by special regulations, alphabetically arranged, as to the manner in which certain articles are to be worn, etc., such regulations embodying instructions not sufficiently brief or too general for inclusion in the tables.

5. The occasions on which the uniforms prescribed in the foregoing chapter are to be worn are partly indicated in Chapter IV. Further information on this subject will be published later.

6. Regulations governing the wearing of insignia of rank, staff and other insignia, ornaments, chevrons, etc., are incorporated in Chapter V, which, like Chapter III, is divided into three sections—for officers, enlisted men, and all members of the Marine Band. In each section, insignia, ornaments, etc., are treated under their own headings, and articles designating special duty, etc. (such as aiguillettes), are grouped in alphabetical order under the heading

"Miscellaneous." Each article covered in this chapter also has a cross-reference of the paragraph number containing its specification.

7. Chapter VI governs the wearing of decorations, medals, ribbons, and badges, and is arranged to cover—in the order named—decorations, medals, and ribbons; auxiliary insignia, such as oak-leaf clusters, clasps, stars, etc.; foreign decorations (including the fourragère), medals, and ribbons; and qualification and miscellaneous badges.

8. Chapter VII contains specifications of articles of the uniform and equipment for all officers of the Marine Corps, and for the leader, Marine Band. Most of these articles are alphabetically arranged under their own designations, the few exceptions being grouped under appropriate headings (such as saddle, under "Equipment, horse"). Whenever the use of an article is restricted to certain officers, the fact is noted in italics after the name of article.

9. Chapter VIII alphabetically lists, with their components, articles of the uniform and equipment worn by enlisted men of the Marine Corps, and by the second leader, drum major, and musicians, Marine Band, under the same plan as Chapter VII, such articles to be in accordance with respective standard samples and specifications on file in the Quartermaster's Department. As stated, Chapter IX contains information on the care of the uniform.

10. The following changes, some of which have already been published, are noted for the information of the service:

11. Uniforms.—Evening dress will be procured by all commissioned officers by November 1, 1922. A new uniform for officers has been added, designated "white dress" (white with miniature medals, dress sword knot, and dress sword slings). Combinations of white and blue are confined to blue undress. Uniforms worn by enlisted men and by members of the Marine Band bear the same designations as corresponding uniforms worn by officers.

12. Aiguillettes.—Service aiguillettes for Marine Corps officers detailed as aides-de-camp have been changed from blue and gold to scarlet and gold. Pencil attachments for dress aiguillettes contain two miniatures of Marine Corps ornament in relief around circumference, in lieu of three helmets. Dress aiguillettes will not be worn outside the overcoat.

13. Belts.—The officer's belt, Sam Browne pattern, is prescribed as an article of uniform for the leader, Marine Band. While this belt is described on the basis of two shoulder straps, one only should be procured by officers and the leader, unless otherwise ordered. When the sword is prescribed with dress or white, officers may wear the former regulation undress belt under the coat, instead of the Sam Browne belt without shoulder strap. Undress sword slings will be darkened on the inside.

14. The dress belt for noncommissioned staff officers has been readopted with detachable slings, the former belt, with slings attached, to be issued until no longer available.

15. The russet belt will be worn by enlisted men over the winter and summer service coats when on liberty, at drills when packs are not worn, at ceremonies, and upon all other occasions when service uniforms are worn and the web belt is not prescribed. The russet belt will also be worn with the blue uniform when on liberty.

16. Boots, leggings, and puttees.—The present authority for the wearing of boots (without spurs), leggings, or spiral puttees by officers, and leggings or spiral puttees by enlisted men, when actually on flying duty, is extended to warrant officers and enlisted men qualified as balloon pilots.

17. Leggings for officers are no longer restricted to the pattern known as "strap puttee." Leggings will not be worn by officers and enlisted men with dress or blue undress except as expressly authorized in these regulations. Leggings will not be worn with white trousers.

18. Breeches.—White undress breeches, heretofore, authorized for mounted officers in the Tropics when not on duty, may be worn with white undress by all officers when not on duty.

19. Coats.—A brass hook, on each side seam at waist, has been added to the dress and winter service coats for officers, to hold the Sam Browne belt in proper position. Flaps will be stitched just above lower pockets, which have been slightly enlarged, instead of 1 inch above as heretofore.

20. Collar.—The linen collar worn by officers and by members of the Marine Band is to be of such height as to show no more than one-fourth inch above collar of coat or jacket, instead of three-eighths inch as heretofore.

21. Gloves.—Leather dress gloves are prescribed for enlisted men in lieu of woolen gloves, the latter, however, to be issued until no longer available. Horsehide gauntlets are authorized for chauffeurs and motorcycle orderlies when actually operating Marine Corps motor vehicles.

22. Headgear.—All caps (except the garrison cap) have been modified. In the case of officers, the crown, which was enlarged, is given a more decided slope, and falls into a slack position in rear, and the visor is placed at a less acute angle. In the case of enlisted men, the crown is modified in a manner generally similar to that of officers' caps. The former regulation caps for officers may be worn until no longer serviceable, and the former design for enlisted men will be issued them until no longer available. A rubber cap cover is authorized for wear by officers during inclement weather.

23. In the case of general officers, the hat cord worn with the field hat has been changed from scarlet and gold to plain gold. The field hat for enlisted men was modified some time ago, the brim being made flat and a head strap being added. A similar hat is specified for officers, although the present model may be worn until no longer serviceable.

24. When on campaigns, the field hat is prescribed as the regulation headgear to be worn with both service uniforms by enlisted men. The winter service cap is to be worn with the winter uniform at all other times.

25. Shirt.—The chambray shirt has been abolished as an article of the uniform for officers and enlisted men.

26. Shoes.—Russet shoes are prescribed for enlisted men with dress and blue undress and, for the second leader, drum major, and musicians, Marine Band, with special full dress and full dress, black shoes to be issued to marine bandsmen and to marine detachments on board ship and at Peking, China, until no longer available.

27. Sword.—The sword has been omitted from the special full dress uniform of the leader, Marine Band, and, in the case of the second leader of the band, is no longer an article of uniform.

28. Insignia, chevrons, trumpet banner, etc.—Instead of being optional as heretofore, the insignia of rank, and the insignia worn by warrant officers and pay clerks, and leader, Marine Band, are prescribed to be worn on the raincoat whenever the latter is provided with shoulder straps.

29. The revised regulations are worded to prescribe  $1\frac{1}{2}$  inches from center of collar ornament to collar opening, and 2 inches from center of ornament to center of collar insignia.

30. Regulations are added as to the wearing of balloon pilot insignia for warrant officers and enlisted men holding certificates of qualification as balloon pilots. Naval aviator and balloon pilot insignia worn by officers on dress and winter service are to be embroidered.

31. Letters worn by officers and enlisted men of the Marine Corps Reserve, the Naval Militia (Marine Corps branch), and the National Naval Volunteers (Marine Corps branch) are prescribed for the collars of the coats and the flannel shirt only.

32. War-service chevrons are no longer regulation in the Marine Corps, as the service represented is indicated by clasps on the Victory medal, and by bronze stars or the Maltese cross on the Victory ribbon, medals or ribbons being prescribed at all times except when in the field.

33. Dress chevrons and service stripes for enlisted men, of the approximate size of chevrons and stripes worn with the summer and winter uniforms, have been adopted, the large design, however, to be issued until no longer available. A lyre has been substituted for the cornet in the chevrons of the second leader, Marine Band. The service stripe is prescribed for each four years of service, continuous or otherwise, instead of for each enlistment. If service stripes are worn with the gun captain and gun pointer insignia, the latter will be worn above such stripes.

34. Trumpet banners have been adopted, and will be suspended from the trumpet at all times. Technical insignia for enlisted men have been abolished. Regulations are included to govern the manner of wearing military police and provost guard brassards.

35. Decorations, medals, and ribbons.—Miniature medals will be worn with evening dress and white dress, as already stated, and are authorized with civilian clothes. Medals will be divided into overlapping lines when the individual possesses more than can be properly mounted on a single holding bar. Service medals (except the Dewey medal, the Sampson medal, and the specially meritorious service medal) will be worn according to the date of the particular action or campaign for which awarded, and if a single service medal is awarded for several different campaigns, the date of the first campaign in which the holder participated will govern. For instance, the Mexican service medal would be worn before or after the Nicaraguan campaign medal according to whether the former was awarded for service in 1911 or 1914, or if awarded for both 1911 and 1914 would be worn before the Nicaraguan campaign medal, the latter being for service in 1912. (The Mexican service medal also represents service other than the foregoing, which is used as an illustration only.)

36. When a person would be entitled to both Haiti campaign medals, a clasp (awarded in lieu of a second medal) will be worn on the ribbon attached to the Haiti campaign medal, 1915, and a bronze star will be worn on the Haiti service ribbon. A bronze numeral, to the number of clasps awarded with the Marine Corps good-conduct medal, will be worn on the good-conduct ribbon. Ribbons corresponding to those attached to the life-saving medals and the Bailey medal may be worn with other ribbons.

37. Ribbons will be placed in rows of three, where that number or more is held, unless the number involved would make too many rows, in which case ribbons will be placed in rows of four. Where the arrangement of ribbons into more than one row results in a row of less than full length, the latter row will be underneath.

JOHN A. LEJEUNE,

Major General Commandant.

Approved:

EDWIN DENBY,

Secretary of the Navy.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

1. Uniform Regulations, United States Marine Corps, 1922, is published for the information and guidance of all officers and enlisted men of the Marine Corps, who shall wear the articles of uniform and equipment only which are prescribed herein for their respective ranks and grades. Commanding officers shall assure themselves that all officers and enlisted men serving under their command conform strictly to these regulations.

2. The various uniforms shall consist of the articles only which are prescribed herein. Parts of one uniform shall not be worn with parts of another except as authorized in these regulations, and so far as practicable, especially in connection with white uniforms or uniforms combining white, officers and enlisted men shall wear corresponding articles of the uniform when on duty together.

3. The uniform for officers and enlisted men for the day or for any particular occasion shall be fixed, if at a post or station, by the commanding officer of marines or, if attached to a vessel of the Navy, by the senior naval officer present, with due regard to the duty to be performed and the state of the weather, and shall be in accordance with the provisions of Chapter III of these regulations. In any special case not definitely covered by Chapter III, the uniform shall conform to the general principles laid down in that chapter.

4. The uniform of the day for officers and enlisted men shall be posted on a bulletin board, and a copy of these regulations shall be placed where they may be consulted by enlisted men.

5. Commissioned officers, warrant officers, and enlisted men of the Marine Corps, when actually engaged in flying duty, are authorized to wear such articles of uniform and equipment for flying as are prescribed by the Navy Department for the aviation personnel of the Navy.

6. Commanding officers shall inspect and verify service uniforms, arms, and field equipment of the personnel under their command as often as may be necessary to be assured that all members thereof are prepared, upon short notice, to take the field fully uniformed and equipped as prescribed. Officers ordered to duty in the field shall be required to carry those articles of uniform and equipment only which are necessary to the particular duty ordered.

7. The uniform for officers and enlisted men of the Naval Militia (Marine Corps branch) of the several States and Territories, and the District of Columbia; for officers and enlisted men of such militia enrolled in time of war in the National Naval Volunteers (Marine Corps branch); and for officers and enlisted men of the Marine Corps Reserve, shall be the same as for the corresponding ranks and grades of officers and enlisted men of the Marine Corps, with the letters prescribed in Chapter V.

8. Officers and enlisted men of the Navy serving with an expeditionary force of marines may wear the service uniform prescribed for officers and enlisted men of the Marine Corps, respectively, with insignia prescribed in Chapter V.

9. An officer holding an acting appointment shall wear the uniform of the grade to which he is appointed until the appointment is revoked, when he shall resume the uniform of his actual rank.

10. Officers detailed to a staff department for a four-year period shall wear their line uniforms, together with the insignia of the staff department as prescribed in Chapter V. Officers serving with staff departments, but not under a regular four-year detail, shall also wear their line uniforms, the wearing of the staff insignia being optional.

11. Retired officers on active duty shall conform in all respects to these regulations. If not on active duty they are not required to wear or have uniforms, but may wear uniforms and equipment either in conformity with these regulations or as prescribed at the time of their retirement. A retired officer with a brevet commission may, while in a retired status, wear the uniform of his highest brevet rank. Retired enlisted men may wear the uniform prescribed at the date of their retirement.

12. Officers suspended from duty by sentence of a court-martial, or on leave or awaiting orders for punishment, are prohibited from wearing uniform during the period of punishment.

13. Colored linen shall not be worn with the uniform where it may be visible.

14. Officers shall maintain their uniform, arms, and personal and horse equipment in a thoroughly neat and serviceable condition, and shall by their appearance set an example of neatness and strict conformity to regulations in uniforms and equipment.

15. The enlisted personnel shall be neat and trim in person and dress on all occasions, and commanding officers will be held responsible for the appearance at all times of the men serving under them. Officers, and commanding officers especially, will impress upon the enlisted personnel that the dignity of the uniform and the respect due it are best preserved when its wearers so conduct themselves as never to cast discredit upon it. All officers will observe the appearance of the enlisted men seen on liberty or furlough, and will report those who may be in an untidy condition.

16. Commanding officers shall exercise close supervision over the fitting of the uniforms of enlisted men, shall encourage the men to keep their uniforms clean and neat, and shall do everything possible to facilitate the proper care, cleaning, and preservation of uniforms and equipment.

17. Enlisted men shall wear clothing and equipment issued by the Quartermaster's Department only, and clothing and equipment so issued will be considered regulation. If wreck, fire, or other emergency renders it absolutely necessary to temporarily obtain clothing from other sources, such clothing shall conform as nearly as possible to that prescribed herein and shall be carefully inspected by the commanding officer before being worn.

18. The quantity and kind of uniform clothing provided each enlisted man shall depend upon the nature of his duties. At shore stations within and without the continental limits of the United States, each enlisted man will be issued and required to keep on hand one dress coat (with gilt collar ornaments), one pair dress trousers, and one dress cap (with gilt cap ornament). At recruit training stations, the dress uniform will not be issued to recruits unless they are transferred to permanent organizations serving thereat.

19. In order to increase the mobility of forces available for expeditionary service and to reduce issues to a minimum at time of departure, each enlisted man at every post, except recruits at recruit depots, shall be required to keep the following articles of clothing, in good serviceable condition, on hand at all times:

- 1 blanket.
- 2 coats, service.
- 4 pairs drawers.

20. Commanding officers shall require company and detachment commanders to keep lists of the clothing in the hands of each man and by frequent inspections to see that these lists are kept up to date and that each man at all times has all the articles required in paragraphs 18 and 19. Only articles that are absolutely necessary will be issued after the receipt of orders and prior to the departure of expeditionary forces.

21. When ordered to duty in the field or on expeditions, a noncommissioned staff officer may be issued, on memorandum receipt, a trunk locker (or bedding roll) and a clothing roll.

22. Enlisted men shall wear regulation underclothing. Unless a particular weight is prescribed, either heavy or light underwear may be worn, as desired.

23. No watch chain, fob, pin, or other jewelry shall be worn exposed upon the uniform, except cuff buttons and shirt studs as prescribed.

24. The following is an act of Congress with reference to discrimination against persons lawfully wearing the uniform:

"That hereafter no proprietor, manager, or employee of a theater or other public place of entertainment or amusement in the District of Columbia, or in any Territory, the District of Alaska or insular possession of the United States, shall make, or cause to be made, any discrimination against any person lawfully wearing the uniform of the Army, Navy, Revenue-Cutter Service or Marine Corps of the United States because of that uniform, and any person making, or causing to be made, such discrimination shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars." Act Mar. 1, 1911 (36 Stat. L. 963, 964).

For information as to various State laws, the statutes of the various States should be consulted.

25. Dungarees may be prescribed for officers and enlisted men while engaged in work which requires such clothing. When engaged in athletics or gymnastics, officers and enlisted men may wear clothing appropriate thereto. Uniform clothing with shooting pads may be worn by officers and enlisted men while shooting on the rifle range.

26. Officers may be authorized to wear civilian clothing when on duty at the Navy Department or Headquarters Marine Corps, or when employed on shore duty without troops other than at navy yards, shore stations, and recruiting offices.

27. Officers on leave of absence or who have permission to leave a station may wear civilian clothes at the discretion of the commanding officer of marines. If attached to a ship, this permission should be obtained from the commanding officer thereof. Officers may be permitted to wear civilian clothing in foreign ports, but discretion must be observed in such instances.

28. Enlisted men serving on board ship shall not wear civilian clothing when ashore in a foreign port, but may be granted such permission when on furlough or on liberty in home port. They shall not be allowed to have civilian outer clothing in their possession on board ship.

29. Enlisted men serving on shore in a foreign country shall not have in their possession nor wear civilian clothing unless specifically authorized when an emergency renders it necessary. When serving on shore in the United States or its possessions, they may be permitted to wear civilian clothing on furlough or on liberty and be allowed to keep civilian clothing in their possession. Enlisted men on duty at Headquarters Marine Corps may be permitted to wear civilian clothing.

30. With civilian clothing officers shall wear no part of the outer uniform except the raincoat, gloves, and shoes, and enlisted men no part of the outer uniform except gloves and shoes.

DECORATIONS, MEDALS, RIBBONS, AND BADGES.

350. Decorations, service medals, good-conduct and other medals, ribbons, and badges prescribed herein or which may be authorized, shall be worn only by those officers and enlisted men to whom they have been awarded. Decorations, medals, the expeditionary ribbon, and badges are prescribed for wear with the dress uniform and, by members of the Marine Band, with the special full-dress and full-dress uniforms; miniatures of decorations, medals, and the expeditionary ribbon, with the white dress and evening dress uniforms and, if desired, with civilian clothes; and ribbons of decorations, ribbons of medals, the expeditionary ribbon, and badges, with the undress and service uniforms. In the field no decorations or medals will be worn and ribbons and badges may be omitted, nor will decorations, medals, ribbons, or badges be worn on the overcoat or on the shirt. Officers suspended from rank and command, and enlisted men serving sentence of confinement, are prohibited from wearing any decorations, medals, miniatures, ribbons, or badges, or substitutes therefor.

DECORATIONS, MEDALS, AND RIBBONS.

351. With the exception of those decorations worn pendent from the neck, decorations and medals shall be suspended from a single holding bar in one horizontal line, arranged in order of precedence from the center of the body toward the left shoulder. The holding bar shall be of metal or other material of sufficient thickness, no longer than from the center line of coat to left arm-hole seam, and be centered between those points, with the upper edge midway between the first and second buttons at top of coat. On the evening dress jacket, the holding bar containing the miniatures shall be placed in the same relative position as that on the coat.

352. When a decoration or medal has an exposed bar or clasp at the top of the ribbon, such bar or clasp shall be mounted on or form a part of the holding bar, and where there are several such exposed bars or clasps on a single decoration or medal, the one uppermost shall be so mounted. When there are more decorations and medals than can be accommodated on a holding bar of maximum length and each be entirely visible, they shall all be mounted on the holding bar and equally overlap, each ribbon partially covering the one on its left. When there are more decorations and medals than can be properly mounted on a single holding bar, an additional bar, or bars, shall be used, and be centered underneath the first bar in such manner that the lines of decorations and medals will overlap. No portion of a holding bar shall be visible. When decorations and medals are worn, service ribbons shall be either removed or concealed.

353. Ribbons worn in lieu of decorations and medals shall be placed without interval or overlapping in a horizontal row, or parallel rows one-fourth inch apart, equidistant from the center line of coat and left armhole seam, the upper edge of a single row, or top row when more than one, being midway between the first and second buttons at top of coat. Each ribbon shall be three-eighths inch in length and equal in width to the full width of the ribbon attached to the decoration or medal which it represents. Ribbons may be sewed on the coat, with sufficient stiffening to prevent wrinkling, or be worn on a bar or bars and pinned to the coat, no portion of bar or pin being visible.

354. Ribbons shall be placed in rows of three, where that number or more is held, unless the number involved would make too many rows, in which case ribbons shall be placed in rows of four. When the arrangement of ribbons into more than one row results in a row of less than full length, the latter row shall be underneath.

355. When decorations and medals, or ribbons, are worn with the naval aviator or balloon pilot insignia, the upper edge of the holding bar or ribbon row shall be centered one-fourth inch below the bottom of the insignia, the latter being worn as prescribed in Chapter V.

356. Decorations and ribbons.—The decorations mentioned in this chapter are awarded individually for special acts of valor or for distinguished service, the brevet medal, however, signifying a brevet commission so conferred. Decorations or their ribbons shall be worn in the order shown in paragraph 361. When the expeditionary ribbon is worn with decorations, service medals, and good-conduct medals, it shall be placed next after them on a line with the holding bar, but when worn with other ribbons it shall be placed before or after them according to whether the date of the first expedition for which awarded precedes or follows the governing dates of the other service ribbons.

(Par. 1709 (6), Navy Regulations, 1920.)

a. Citations of persons for gallantry in action are published in orders issued from the headquarters of a United States force commanded by, or which is the appropriate command of, a general officer, or issued by the War Department.

(b) (1) For each citation of an officer or enlisted man for gallantry in action, published as in a, which citation does not warrant the award of a medal of honor or distinguished-service cross, a silver star may be worn * * *. In order to entitle the person cited to wear the silver star, the citation must show clearly and unquestionably that it is for gallantry in action. A citation for meritorious services, or for gallant conduct not in action, does not entitle the person cited to wear the silver star. In any case of doubt as to whether a published citation authorizes the wearing of the silver star, the facts will be reported to The Adjutant General of the Army for decision.

(2) When an officer or enlisted man is cited in orders from more than one headquarters for acts or deeds that are clearly identical, only one silver star may be worn, and the citation in orders from the headquarters of the higher command will be the citation authorizing the wearing of the silver star.

(3) When a person entitled to wear the silver star is subsequently awarded another decoration for the same conduct, the right to wear the silver star by reason of the published citation for the particular conduct ceases. A silver star may not be worn for any citation for conduct for which any other decoration of the United States was awarded. (Par. 10, Army Regulations, No. 600-45, Mar. 9, 1922.)

Gold or silver bars awarded in lieu of subsequent life-saving medals are worn at the bottom of the ribbon attached to medal, with first date uppermost. Persons who participated in the Haiti campaigns of 1915 and 1919-1920 are awarded a clasp, in lieu of the Haiti campaign medal, 1919-1920, for wear with the Haiti campaign medal, 1915. (See par. 367.) A ribbon is not authorized in lieu of a clasp or bar.

365. Stars and Maltese cross.—Silver stars are worn for citations, being placed on the ribbons attached to medals and on ribbons, and are authorized for Army citations prior to the World War. One or more silver and bronze stars are authorized to be worn on the Victory ribbon at the same time, or one or more silver stars and the Maltese cross, when held by the persons above mentioned. A single bronze star, representative of clasp awarded with the Victory medal by the Navy, is authorized for wear on the Victory ribbon, and when one or more silver stars are also awarded, the latter replace the bronze star on such ribbon.

367. A bronze star, representative of clasp awarded in lieu of the Haiti campaign medal, 1919-1920, shall be worn on the Haiti ribbon of those holding such clasp. (See par. 364.)

370. Buttons and rosettes.—Victory buttons are issued for optional wear on civilian dress to those who were awarded the Victory medal, a silver button being given to those wounded in action and a bronze button to all others. Rosettes and lapel buttons representative of certain decorations or service medals are for optional wear on civilian clothes.

FOREIGN DECORATIONS, MEDALS, AND RIBBONS.

371. Congress having authorized members of the military forces of the United States serving in the World War<sup>3</sup> to accept and wear, under certain conditions, decorations or medals bestowed by certain foreign Governments, an individual who has received a decoration or medal from the Government of a foreign country will wear same, as a courtesy to that country, when attending any public function in that country, or when attending any formal function in any country in the house of or in honor of a public official or other distinguished citizen or subject of the country whose decoration he possesses. On such occasions the foreign decoration concerned will take precedence over all others, American or foreign, with the exception of the medal of honor. When foreign decorations or medals are worn, at least one American decoration or medal shall also be worn.

372. Except as prescribed in the foregoing, the wearing of foreign decorations, medals, and ribbons, and their accompanying insignia, is optional. They will be worn on the same occasions as American decorations and medals or ribbons, respectively, and be placed to the left of all American decorations and medals or ribbons in the order of date of receipt, except that when one individual possesses two or more decorations or medals from the same foreign country, the order of precedence of those particular decorations or medals shall be determined by the rules of the country concerned. An individual possessing a foreign decoration which, under the rules of the country concerned, is required to be worn at the neck, will so wear it, and if the medal of honor is also held, the foreign decoration will be placed below it.

373. So far as may be consistent with the above, foreign decorations, medals and ribbons will be worn as nearly as practicable in accordance with the regulations of the country concerned.

<sup>3</sup> That any and all members of the military forces of the United States serving in the present war be, and they are hereby, permitted and authorized to accept during the present war or within one year thereafter, from the Government of any of the countries engaged in war with any country with which the United States is or shall be concurrently likewise engaged in war, such decorations, when tendered, as are conferred by such Government upon the members of its own military forces; and the consent of Congress required therefor by clause eight of section nine of Article I of the Constitution is hereby expressly granted: Provided, That any officer or enlisted man of the military forces of the United States is hereby authorized to accept and wear any medal or decoration heretofore bestowed by the Government of any of the nations concurrently engaged with the United States in the present war. (Act July 9, 1918, 40 Stat. L. 872.)

The Attorney General in his opinion of April 11, 1921 (file 28766-342:6), held that all statutory provisions relating to time of war or national emergency affecting the Navy were terminated on March 3, 1921, by the joint resolution of that date. I am of the opinion, therefore, that so much of the act of July 9, 1918, above referred to, as authorized members of the military force of the United States serving in the present war to accept decorations from certain foreign Governments will be terminated on March 2, 1922, and you are advised accordingly. (Opinion of the Judge Advocate General of July 30, 1921.)

374. Fourragere.—The fourragere is a decoration instituted by Napoleon I for units which had distinguished themselves in battle. It was revived during the World War and was awarded by the French Ministry of War to organizations which were cited more than once in the French Orders of the Army. Officers entitled thereto shall habitually wear the silk or wool fourragere (pars. 458, 459) on all uniform coats, the evening dress jacket, and on the overcoat. Enlisted men entitled thereto shall habitually wear the wool fourragere (par. 659b) on all coats and on the overcoat, except on police duty or when engaged in manual labor.

375. Manner of wearing fourragere.—The fourragere shall be worn attached to left shoulder, and under aiguilletes if they also are worn. The silk fourragere will be attached by fastening the loop on the pencil end to the left shoulder-strap button underneath the strap, the brass pencil hanging down in front, and passing the fourragere over the left shoulder and then under the arm, the loop under the trefoll being attached to the same button, over the shoulder strap. When worn with the evening dress jacket, the silk fourragere will be similarly attached. The wool fourragere will be attached by fastening the loop at end of fourragere to the left shoulder-strap button underneath the strap, passing the fourragere under the left arm, and fastening the loop on the pencil end to the same button, under the strap, allowing the brass pencil to hang down in front. When worn with the evening dress jacket, the wool fourragere will be similarly attached. The miniature fourragere (pars. 457, 659a) will be worn with civilian dress only, at the option of the holder.

CHAPTER IX.

CARE OF THE UNIFORM.

800. The following information is taken largely from A Handbook on the Care of Uniforms, published by the Officers' Uniform Shop:

801. General care.—No matter how well a uniform (especially the coat) fits when new, it will not continue to preserve its best appearance or keep its shape unless carefully put on and kept buttoned. The carrying of large or heavy objects in the pockets will speedily destroy the shape of the best coat. Uniforms should always be kept on hangers when not in use.

802. To fold a coat.—Spread it, lining down, on a table. Turn each sleeve up at the elbow and fold each side over on sleeve, then fold the coat over on center seam. If the container will not hold the coat full length, fold the skirt over on body of coat.

803. To prevent moths.—Frequent brushing, and exposure to sunshine and fresh air will effectually prevent moths. If uniforms are to be put away for a long time and left undisturbed, they should be packed away with camphor balls, cedar wood, or balls of cotton saturated with turpentine.

804. To remove oil or grease from blue uniforms.—Soak a piece of blue cloth in chloroform, petroleum benzine, benzol, or acetone, and rub the spot briskly. The stain will be washed out and the solvent will rapidly evaporate.

805. To remove paint stains from blue uniforms.—Paint stains may be removed by a method similar to that indicated in paragraph 804 while the paint stain is still fresh. Old and hard paint stains are difficult to remove, often impossible. The best method to remove old paint stains is to rub them hard with a piece of blue cloth saturated in turpentine.

806. To remove rust, ink, or fruit stains from white uniforms.—Soak the stained part in a strong solution of oxalic acid, or put some powdered oxalic acid or sodium or potassium acid oxalate on the stain, previously moistened with water, and rub with a piece of white cotton or linen. The stain will dissolve and can be washed out with water. Oxalic acid and its soluble salts are very poisonous and care should be taken in handling them.

807. Care of gold braid.—Gold braid will rapidly tarnish and deteriorate if in contact with, or hung near, any substance containing sulphur, such as rubber, or ordinary manila and kraft wrapping papers.

808. To remove tarnish from gold braid.—Dip a piece of white flannel in milk of magnesia and rub gently on the tarnished braid. Avoid contact of the milk of magnesia with the blue cloth. The use of potassium cyanide to clean gold braid is dangerous, as the latter is a powerful poison. If the braid has a silvery appearance, it is due to the fact that the gold is worn off, and no treatment will restore it.

809. To clean buttons that have turned green.—Buttons sometimes turn green when the gold plating is worn off and the copper base becomes covered with green copper carbonate due to exposure to moist air. This coating can be removed by rubbing gently with acetic acid or any substance containing this acid, such as vinegar or Worcestershire sauce, followed by a thorough washing in fresh water, and drying. (See par. 813.)

810. To remove shine from serge uniforms.—The spot to be treated should be steamed by laying a wet cloth over it and pressing with a hot iron, and then rubbing it very gently with a piece of "00" sandpaper or emery cloth. It would be better to have this done by a regular tailor.

811. To repair a clean cut in serge uniforms.—A clean cut in a serge or cloth uniform can be repaired by being rewoven with threads drawn from the material in another part of the garment. This must be done by a regular tailor. The process is rather expensive, but the cut can not be detected after being rewoven.

812. To remove a singe mark.—A light singe mark on blue serge or cloth should be rubbed vigorously with the flat side of a silver coin. In many cases this will effect a great improvement in appearance, but is not effective in the case of bad singes or scorches.

813. Cap ornaments and other gold and silver insignia may be kept new and bright by scrubbing them occasionally with a nail brush, and ammonia which has been diluted with water. This should be done as soon as there are any signs of tarnishing or of corrosion. If the latter has been allowed to continue or has taken strong hold, the original condition can not be restored. Buttons may be cleaned in the same way.
